BRILLIANT THRONG WATCHES WEDDING

ROYAL BRIDE'S WEDDING IN WESTMINSTER ABBEY.

TO LOVE, HONOR AND OBEY

The Bridegroom and Royal Family Rode in State From Palace to the Abbey.

London, Feb. 28—Admit pomp and ceremony of the old world royalty, Princess Mary was married to Viscount Lasceiles in Westminster Abbey being the first marriage in the reigning family in twenty-nine years and a social event of almost unprecedented splendor. The marriage was at noon.

The bride groom and the royal family rode in state from Buckingham Palace to the Abbey through cheering throngs. Contrary to custom, foreign royalties were uninvited.

The Archbishop of Canterberry officiated. The bride promised to love, honor and obey. There were 2,200 guests in the Abbey. At the Abbey the royal family was met by the Dean who escorted them within the altar. The bride was escorted to the altar by her father. Lascelles and the best man awaited her there. The great organ burst into the national anthem as the ceremony closed and the Archbishop pronounced blessing.

The bridal pair laid a wreath on the cenotaps memorial of the British war dead, the bridegroom's companion in arms.

George Harvey, the American ambassador narrowly missed the ceremony. He dashed up in the nick of time as the gates were being closed. The weather was clear when the nuptial procession left the palace for the abbey. The bride was radiantly happy.

TWO SCIONS OF TUDOR KING ARE UNITED BY TODAY'S CEREMONY

London, Feb. 28. — Two scions of Henry VII., Tudor King of England, were joined in marriage today.

Princess Mary and her husband Viscount Lascelles, both trace their ancestry back to King Henry VII. The Princess Mary is fifteen generations distant from the Tudor monarch but fourteen only if her pedigree had been traced through her mother, Queen Mary instead of through her father, King George. The Queen is the great-granddaughter of George III., and the King is his great-great-grandson. Lord Lascelles is sixteenth in descent, one generation more distant, from Henry VII.

OFFICIAL DRESS WORN BY DECREE OF PALACE

London, Feb. 28.—Official dress for the wedding of Princess Mary was ordered by the Lord Chamberlain as follows:

Royal households and civil service full dress coat, with trousers. Those not in possession of full dress coat, levee dress.

Navy, Army and Air Force, full-dress uniform for officers in possession of it. Officers not in possession of full-dress uniform, service dress.

Civilians, court dress, morning gowns, for women, tailed evening coat and knee breeches for men.

London, Feb. 28.—A royal bride, a princess, but above all a picturesque example of England's stalwart womanhood—this was Mary, daughter of King George and Queen Mary, as she slowly passed through the nave to the high altar of Westminster Abbey today to take the marriage vow as wife of Henry George Charles, Viscount Lascelles.

Tall and straight, as were her Saxon forebears, fair haired, cheeks abloom with the welcome fragrance of Britain's womanhood, Princess Mary, the royal bride, appeared a stricking credit to her sex. Not because of any flower-like beauty, not because of her marvelous wedding gown of brocade, did Princess Mary seem an inspiring bride, but because of the very atmosphere of strong, courageous womanhood, that womanhood that has stood for noble strength down through the ages.

Clothing may make the man, but the finest raiment of royalty could not make Princess Mary. Her personality that personality which comes from Mary Queen of Scots, Elizabeth and Victoria, stood out above all else in the

M. H. S. BOYS AND GIRLS TO PLAY BURLINGTON JUNCTION

Teams Will Meet on the Local Court Friday Evening—May be Changes In Boys' Line-up

The boys' and girls' teams of the Maryville High School will meet the Burlington Junction High School team at the gymnasium here Friday night. The Burlington Junction boys, although they did not reach the semi-finals at St. Joseph as Maryville did, play good basketball. Coach H. O. Ezell of the high school has not announced the line-up for Maryville but it is expected by the local fans that there will be several changes from the line up of last Friday.

Not much known of the girls adversary although rumors are that the Burlington Junction team will give the local girls a good game. The girls of the high school here have won all but one of their games and are considered strong contenders for the Northwest Missouri girls basketball championship. Last year the Maryville girls won every game and were awarded the championship of this district. The girls line-up will be the same as in the other games they have played.

CASES OF FLU AT PICKERING SEVERE

DR. CLAUDE P. FRYER CALLED THERE THIS MORNING

CASES MOSTLY IN TOWNS

Dr. Dean Says Cases in Maryville not Severe but Increasing—Quarantine May Become Necessary

Dr. Claude P. Fryer, county health officer was called today to Pickering by the physicians of that place on account of the influenza situation there. It is said that there is quite an epidemic of the disease in and about Pickering and that it is of a more severe type than that which is taking place in other parts of the country.

It was reported yesterday that the county health department has had reports of ninety-four cases of flu in the past week and that calls were still coming in. Most of the cases reported have been in the towns, but it is thought that there is a considerable larger number of cases throughout the country, since it is probable that many of the people on the farms have the disease but in such a light form that they do not call a physician, and consequently it is not reported to officials.

Dr. L. E. Dean, city health officer, said this morning that there were a number of cases of flu in Maryville but that none of them were very severe. Dr. Dean said he though it probable that the disease was being spread to some degree by persone affected with it staying at their work as long as they possibly can or not quitting work at all, thus exposing those about them to the disease. He said that no steps had been taken toward establishing a quarantine on account of the epidemic but that the disease is growing more prevalent and that it may become necessary to quarantine yet.

Dr. Dean said that outsido of the fact that there is flu the health of Maryville people is good. There are now only two families quarantined in town and they are both quarantined on account of scarlet fever.

Dr. Freyer makes the following statement regarding the influenza:

"Unlike many other diseases in which one attack renders immunity form subsequent ones, a first infection of "flu" germs seems to predispose the victim to later attacks of the disease and as a result of these subsequent attacks. The tendency to incipient tubercular infection is also one of the commonest after effects of influenza, and patient should, after an attack be vigilant in watching for any complication that might rise. And these include tendencies to heart trouble, pneumonia, bronchial congestions, rheumatism and quite the commonest of all, affections of the kidneys.

As to treatment, "stay in bed until the febrils or fever period has passed, use all precaution against extreme changes and exposure. Aviod meetings and public gatherings of every kind to prevent spread of the disease. The proper clothing, personal hygiene and preventative measures are the greatest factors in caring for and preventing spread of the disease."

SENIORS WON CUP AT CLEARMONT

BEAT JUNIORS BY ONE POINT IN CONTEST

GAVE A GOOD PROGRAM

Splendid Work Has Been Done This Years Along the Line of Declamation and Oratory

The finals in a declamation and oratorical contest that has been going on at the Clearmont schools for the past several months were held last night. The contests have been between the classes and the seniors won in the finals by one point over the juniors, their closest competitors.

The freshmen and sophomore classes were eliminated earlier in the season. At the beginning of the contest last night the seniors had sixty points to their credit and the juniors had fifty-five. At the end of the contest the seniors had 109 and the juniors had 108. The program was called a "Citizenship Literary Program." It was as follows:

Prelude—Orchestra.

Declamation for the juniors, "Wet Weather Talk" (Riley)—Opal Pollock.

Declamation for the seniors, "Romancin'" (Riley)—Merle Britton.

"A Fireside Fantasie" in which a medley of the following old-fashioned songs was sung: (a) "Sweet and Low," (b) "Annie Laurie," (c) "There's Music In the Air" and (d) "Scotland's Burning"—by boys and girls chorus.

Violin solo "Pretty Little Rainbow"—Bernice Beam.

Debate, "Resolved, That the Monroe Doctrine Should Be Maintained" Affirmative—Dola Holmes, Eliot Lister and Day Baker, all members of the senior class; Negative—Joe Linebaugh, Allie May Johnson and Floyd Billingsley, all members of the junior class.

Selection—Orchestra.

"One of Those Awful Children"—Ethmer Jenkins.

Composition for the juniors, "Patriotism"—Mary Smith.

Composition for the juniors, "Americanism"—Clara Snyder.

Selection—The Orchestra.

Pianologue, "L' Envoi" (Kipling) and "Narcissus" (Nevin)—Gladys Jenkins, accompanied by Miss Thelma Beam.

Presentation of the loving cup by Leslie G. Somerville, county superintendent of schools.

Miss Opal Pollock, a junior won from Merle Britton, a senior, in the declamation contest; the seniors won from the juniors in the debate and Mary Smith, a junior, won from Clara Snyder, a senior, in the composition contest.

It is said that some remarkable work has been done in the Clearmont schools in the past year along the lines of oratory and declamation. Leslie G. Somerville says that the talks delivered last night were especially good.

Hubert Garrett is superintendent of the Clearmont schools and it has been largely due to him that the contests have been carried on. The loving cup given to the winning class last night was furnished by Mr. Garrett. Mr. Garrett has been assisted in the work by Mrs. Neva Rhodes, principal and B. D. Murray.

One of the special features of the program was the playing of the high school orchestra. This orchestra is composed of four pieces and each of them are played by members of one family. The members of the orchestra are the two sons and two daughters of J. E. Beam. They play the piano, violin, cornet and base horn.

MINERS STRIKE UP TO HARDING PEACE PARLEY

Chicago, Feb. 28—Formal announcement by President Lewis of the United Mine Workers that he had rescinded the call for a joint conference of the operators and miners at Cleveland Thursday leaves the next move, to the Harding peace parley, now conceded to be the only hope to avert the strike.

SENATOR KENYON OF IOWA DENOUNCED SENATOR NEWBERRY

Columbia, Feb. 28—Former Senator Kenyon of Iowa, appointed judge of the eighth circuit court of appeals, denounced Senator NewBerry and defended the farm bloc before the students of the University of Missouri.

Mrs. Fred I. Dunn returned to her home in Bolckow yesterday afternoon after a week-end visit with relatives.

PRESENTED RUMPLESTILSKIN WELL AT THE HIGH SCHOOL

Pupils Under Mrs. Caroline Leet Played Story of Queen Who Spun Strand Into Gold

At the assembly presented this afternoon at the high school by section B of the fourth grade as one of the regular assemblies presented once a month, the dramatization of Rumplestiltkin, one of the Grimm's fairy tales, the pupils did exceptionally well. The entire cast acted well and was a credit to the teacher, Mrs. Caroline Leet.

The story is about a millers daughter who is required by the queen to spin straw into gold. This she does by the aid of a dwarf which she pays with her jewelry. Again she is required to spin a much larger pile of straw and if she succeeds in doing this she is to marry the king. This time the dwarf is to have her first born baby. The millers daughter shows the king the straw and is married to him. About a year later a child comes to the king and queen and the dwarf calls for his pay but finally agrees to call the bargain off if the queen can guess his name. Some messengers of the queen report that they heard a queer dwarf dancing around and saying that a queens child will soon be his because the queen cannot guess his name which is Rumplestilskin. The queen tells him that that is his name and the dwarf leaves in anger.

TWO NODAWAY COUNTY MEN ENTITLED TO S. DAK. BONUS

John L. Vanhoutan of Parnell and Obed B. Oglesby of Ravenwood Enlisted From Other State.

Applications were made through the local Red Cross chapter yesterday by two Nodaway County men for the state soldier's bonus of South Dakota, according to Miss Betty Turner, Red Cross executive. The two men are John L. Vanhoutan of Parnell and Obed B. Oglesby of Ravenwood.

The two men were working at Ipwhich, S. Dakota, shortly before the United States entered the war. Oglesby volunteered for service on April 1, just before war was declared and Vanhoutan volunteered six days later. Oglesby served until September 4, 1919, and Vanhoutan served until April 29, 1919.

The men enlisted from the state of South Dakota and for that reason will be entitled to the bonus of that state.

The men are better off financially now by having enlisted from South Dakota in place of from Missouri. South Dakota is paying her former soldiers $15 a month with a maximum amount of $400. Oglesby will receive the full $400 and Vanhouton will receive about $375, Miss Turner says, if the applications go through all right

Miss Turner says that she has information regarding the state bonus in most of the states in the Union. She says that she has received a number of requests for information regarding the Iowa state bonus but that none exists as yet, although there is a movement in Iowa to vote on a bonus proposition during the year of 1922. This proposition proposes to pay the men 75 cents a day for the time they served.

NATION WIDE IDENTIFICATION BUREAU IS NOW AVAILABLE

Many people are, no doubt, aware that a large number of men and women "mysterously disappear" but few realize that the number of such "missing" totals many thousands each year, and that the number for the past few years is far greater than those unacquainted with the facts would think possible.

Some are unwilling to make their identity known, some merely neglect to do so, but many are entirely unable to do so. They are frequently inmates of asylums, infirmaries and other detention institutions. Death, also claims upward of seventy-five thousand of these "missing persons every year in the United States alone.

Fleeman's national identification bureau is an organization whose business is to locate and identify the "missing" and those in need of identification. To locate and communicate with relatives and friends of those identified.

The local member of the bureau is the Price Furniture Co., of this city.

PIERCING WIND THIS MORNING SOMEWHAT OF A SURPRISE

BLIZZARD IN SOUTHWEST

Texas, Oklahoma and Southern Kansas in Clutches of Worst Storm Of Year

Bur-r-r-r! how that north wind cut this morning. We strolled forth from our homes not realizing how piercing the air had become, but we soon found out. One Maryville man walked up town, a distance of seven blocks, and said that he got colder than he had been at any time this winter.

Motor cars on the streets today are steaming because of frozen radiators. A few reports of frozen water pipes have been made and it is likely that there will be others.

J. R. Brink, local weather observer, says that the thermometer read 3 above the zero mark this morning, but it seemed much colder. Mr. Brink said that as far as he could tell from reading local conditions is would possibly grow colder.

Severe weather conditions are reported from all sections of the country. At places in Montana the temperature is reported as being as low as 32 degrees below zero and some of the southwestern states are reported to be in the clutches of a terrible storm.

Kansas City, Feb. 28—The worst blizzard of the winter howling through Oklahoma into Texas today swept Kansas and the Missouri valley last night. The temperatures were near zero. Train service was widely impeded by the heavy sleet falling in the Panhandle. Severe cattle losses are reported in Texas.

Sedalia, Mo., Feb. 28—Four inches of snow fell here last night. The thermometer was six above zero.

EARL BARMANN URGES BACHELORS TO MARRY

Was Called on at C. of C. Dinner Last Night to Speak on Subject He "Has Had Much On Mind"

R. P. Hosmer, president of the Maryville Chamber of Commerce, explained at the Chamber's dinner last night at the Balnum Hotel that the entertainment committee always made an effort to get a man on the program who had given a great deal of thought to the subject on which he was to speak. Then he explained that one of the members of the Chamber present, had had a certain subject much on his mind of late and that he would call on this member for a talk. He then announced that Earl Barmann, who recently returned from his honeymoon would speak.

Mr. Barmann arose to the occasion and urged that the bachelors in town take the same step that he had taken, saying that he had often been urged by his married friends to marry and he now feels that they had the right idea in urging him to do so.

CRANDELL ARRESTED ON A LIQUOR CHARGE

Will Appear Before Judge Dawson in Circuit Court Tomorrow—Sold Liquor to Orus Thompson.

Charles Crandell, ten miles southwest of Maryville, was arrested this morning by Sheriff Roach and Deputy Sheriff Atherton on a charge of selling and possessing intoxicating liquor. Crandell will appear in circuit court before Judge Dawson tomorrow, and it was understood today he would enter a plea of guilty.

Crandell is charged with sellin some liquor to Orus Thompson of Conception Junction who was injured in auto collision when his car and a car driven by Kenneth Fordyce of Maryville ran together about eight miles south of Maryville a week ago last Sunday. It was said that the liquor was found in Thompson's car after the accident that day and when questioned by the authorities Thompson is alleged to have said Crandell sold it to him.

A short session of circuit court is to be held tomorrow. A few minor matters are to be disposed. Judge Dawson expects to leave sometime during the day for Grant City where he will hold court on Thursday.

COULD NOT SECURE RADIO SET IN K. C.

HIGH SCHOOL TO GET KESSLER'S SET

A RADIO CLUB FORMED

Use of Apparatus in Country Has Increased from 60,000 to 600,000 In Past Five Months

Ernest Kessler of the Kessler Laboratories was unable to purchase the Westinghouse radio set desired for the high school Saturday when he went to Kansas City for that purpose. This was because all the radio houses in Kansas City are sold out of equipment and owing to the fact that all the manufacturers in the country are behind with their orders so that stocks of equipment cannot be sent out.

Mr. Kessler will turn his set at his laboratories over to the school so that the classes there may go on with the work and he expects to be able to get the new set in by about April 1.

Since it has been assured that the High school will have a wireless telephone outfit several of the students have enrolled in a radio club. The purpose of this club is to promote the interest in radio and also to help to educate the students along that line. Among the first requirements to be a member of the club is to learn the continental code so that one will be able to send and receive at least eight words a minute.

Forrest Martin has offered his services in helping to instruct the club members along the lines of wireless and radio. Forrest has been interested in wireless for a long time and understands it well.

Club to Meet Twice a Week

The club will meet for study probably twice a week and they will first take up the learning of the code and also the working of the radio phone that the high school has bought for the science department. On other nights they will meet to hear the broadcasted concerts given out by the larger stations such as Pittsburg and Chicago.

The club plans after a week or two of lessons on the working of the machine to be able to give concerts to the students of the high school and also to outside people who wish to hear.

The radio club will have a charter membership of twenty-five members and if it is found more can be accomodated the club may be opened to outside enthusiasts. Mrs. Verne Manley science teacher of the high school, will be in charge of the club.

Told of Apparatus Shortage.

Mr. Kessler in an interview this morning told the following regarding his trip to Kansas City and the radio supply situation throughout the country:

"The shortage of radio apparatus and material is worse than I realized. The Western Radio Co., Westinghouse distributers, for eleven states, have practically nothing in the radio line for sale. It has not had a receiving set in the house for two weeks. Tubes are just as scarce. The company has not had one in stock for some time.

PRESIDENT WANTS 'EXPERIMENT' ENDED

SAYS SHIPPING SYSTEM IS TOO COSTLY

MADE RECOMMENDATIONS

Would Establish 125 Million Dollar Shipbuilders' Fund and Place Interest Rate at 2 Per Cent

Washington, Feb. 28—President Harding before a joint session of congress recommended that the government end its "costly experiment" in the shipping business to subsidize American shipping, paving the way of rebuilding the merchant marine.

The Recommendations included liberalizing restrictive laws; the sale of the remaining government ships at prices fixed by the government; establishment of a 125 million dollar loan fund for shipbuilders, borrowing at two per cent; reduction of taxes on shipping corporations equal to five percent of the value of goods shipped under the American flag and waiving such taxes where applied to the half-cost of the new ship construction; fifty per cent of the immigrants required to travel in American vessels; expectation of coast wise laws to include Philippines; ten per cent customs duty, about thirty millions annually, wil be devoted to the revolving fund to provide means for extending aid; tonnage taxes of about two millions annually to be devoted to the same fund.

BODIES OF L. A. DOVE AND 3 CHILDREN BURIED SUNDAY

Funeral Services Were Conducted at Burlington Junction by the Rev. F. E. Edwards

The bodies of L. A. Dove and his three children, Orval, Mabel and Cleo, who were burned to death Friday night, February 17, when their home near Hartville Junction, Wyo., was destroyed by fire, arrived in Burlington Junction Saturday night. They were accompanied by an older daughter and her husband, and Mrs. Dove's brother, Aaron Reynolds of this city, who went to Wyoming a week ago today.

Short funeral services were held at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the Workman Chapel, conducted by the Rev. F. E. Edwards, pastor of the Methodist Church in Burlington Junction. Burial was in the Workman Chapel cemetery, the four bodies being interred in one coffin.

Mrs. Dove was unable to come for the funeral because of being ill in a hospital, suffering from exposure as a result of the fire. Mrs. Dove was the only member of the family to escape walking half a mile barefooted and in her night clothes to the home of neighbors.

Brings Suit for Divorce

A suit for a divorce was filed today by Ruth Roberts against Bryan C. Roberts. Abandonment was given as the grounds for the divorce. The petition states they were married April 3, 1920 and lived together until December 6, 1920. Care and custody of a minor child is asked for.

Mrs. Reynolds to Visit Here

Mrs. Gilbert D. Reynolds of Chicago, who is visiting Miss Katherine Schenck at the Broadlands Hotel in Kansas City, is expected to arrive in Maryville, her former home, the latter part of the week for a visit with relatives. She will also visit relatives in St. Joseph and her brother, Charles Ford in Holton, Kan., before returning home. Mrs. Reynolds was Miss Babe Ford until her marriage last July.

LARGEST CIRCULATION IN NODAWAY COUNTY

LAWYERS OR LAW?

It is significant of deplorable conditions that hardly a meeting of the bar association has been held in the past few years at which some noted jurist has not risen to denounce in the most outspoken language the present methods of law administration in this country, methods that come little short of making a hideous mockery of justice. It is encouraging to find the criticism coming from the legal profession itself and from the bench, not only because they are familiar with the conditions which they decry but because the statute-making powers of this country rest largely in the hands of lawyers, especially statutes dealing with court procedure.

Judge Clarence N. Goodwin, for years on the Illinois Appellate Bench, is one of the most recent critics of the present system.

Equality before the law is impossible as long as the rich and powerful are represented in court by highly educated lawyers while the poor and ignorant are represented by untrained and ignorant counsel. Until such a condition is corrected there will be little justice in the courts.

During my years as a trial judge I was frequently distressed by the fact that one side or the other in the case before me was so incompetently represented by the counsel, or represented by such ignorant counsel that, owing to the learning and skill of the attorneys, on the other side, it seemed impossible to get the case properly before the court, or keep error out of the record.

There is no question but there are scores of men at Jefferson City today who would be at liberty had they been in a position to hire the best legal talent available and sufficiently equipped with funds to take advantage of all the means of appeal and procrastination open to the wealthy. There are men in the penitentiary who would undoubtedly, have been acquitted on appeal had they had the funds necessary to carry the cases to the higher courts. There are others who would perhaps have escaped had they been able to provide money to bring back witnesses from a distant points, pay for the taking of disposition in other cities and foot the bill for other legal tergiversations.

On the other hand, there are hundreds of others at large who would be in prison, but for the fact that they were able to hire the best legal talent in the community, men who were able through sheer eloquence to drive the word "acquittal" into the minds of juries, men whose wits were so sharpened as to render the most honest and sincere witness incoherent and contradictory, men whose apparent knowledge of the law was so profound as to overwhelm even the judge on the bench.

Are the liberty and property of the citizens of America to be prizes in contests of oratory and wit? Is the equity of a cause to be determined by the judgment of the parties at interest in hiring the best qualified attorneys? Is one man to go to jail because he has hired a cheap and stupid attorney and another no less guilty to go free because he was forunate enough to get brilliant and eloquence counsel?

According to police figures 90 per cent of the crimes in St. Louis are committed by white persons, yet 35 per cent of the St. Louis convicts at Jefferson City are negroes. What do these figures signify? Merely that the negro, as a rule either defended by lackadaisical counsel appointed by courts, or by police station shysters. His case is rarely appealed; most often he doesn't even understand the purport of the questions hurled at him by the prosecutor. The negro is not the victim of race prejudice; he is the victim of our system of administering justice.

There must be reform—radical reform—if the American people are to lose faith in their courts of justice. This question of law administration is by far the most important that will come before the Missouri Constitutional Convention this year and the state can blaze the way to better things by rearing code under which the poorest man in the commonwealth will have just exactly as many opportunities to retain his liberty or property as the wealthiest citizen, and in no instance shall lack of funds be a bar to a defendant pursuing every available step in his interest or obtaining competent counsel.—St. Louis Star.

If all of us were so willing
To share our joys as we are
To share our sorrows this
World would be a lot happier.

Some people get down to "Brass tacks" but some girls get down to "Bare facts."

The most impolite people in Maryville are the bill collectors. They usually call again whether or not they are asked.

"Thinking for the average individual is a laborious operation" we read in a scientific newspaper article a few days ago. Perhaps that is the reason so few people are thoughtful of others.

Uncle Abner says you always help yourself ten fold by being helpful to others.

The nerviest act in history is reported right here in Maryville. The other day a woman walked into a drug store, picked up a brush from a display tray, brushed her little girl's hair and walked out. On top of that she never said "Thank you."

If jazz is really dying, we bet we can tell where it will go without any help from the reformers.

A lot of people have solved the problem of cutting down the cost of living. They have the goods charged and then forget all about the bill.

The court house cynic, remarked the other day that you can hardly say that the man who puts his property in his wife's name is holding his own.

The quarrelling boisterous sparrows are getting loving in the eaves of Maryville homes. They are now more willing to share the good morsels the housewife throws out with a lady friend, looking forward, no doubt, to the love nest in May's lilac-scented bower.

How many times in writing a long delayed letter have you started out by saying "Just finding time to answer your letter" or some other fib? Why don't you admit you are mentally indolent and be honest about it.

It is just possible that the other fellow, who can't see things just as you do, may have better eyesight than you.

Our bachelor friend says he has noticed that the more patience the average woman has with her children the less she has with her poor husband.

Something to worry about—What are you to do when a girl faints as the first aid manual says to loosen the clothing at the throat.

Louise the stenographer, says she never had any desire to get into the movies other than to have the price to pay at the door when her favorite hero was to appear on the screen.

Did you ever notice how the average woman will smile when a rival is praised?

A marriage license was issued to Harry W. Siler of Maryville and Goldie Saddoris of Ft. Byron, Ill.

Obituary

Thomas Marion, son of B. W. and Mary A. Trullinger, was born in Hamburg, Iowa, February 28, 1862 departed this life February 23, 1922. When 13 years of age he went to Illinois and made his home with a sister for a while, coming to Missouri in 1877, which has since been his home. On January 10, 1883, he was united in marriage with Ella Bentley. Two children blessed this union. The oldest son, Fred B. died in 1901. His wife and one son, Earl B., survive. He also has 7 brothers and 1 sister In 1917, he united with the church. He has always been a true loving husband and father and kind neighbor.

He did not have an enemy in the world as far as he knew and was a friend to everybody. Through all of his months of sickness, at times suffering intense agony, he was never heard to utter a word of complaint against his God or speak in a rebellious manner against his fate. He was hopeful and cheerful until the very last and in the midst of his sufferings he would speak words of comfort to his wife and son bidding them to be of good cheer and assuring them that everything would be alright.

For two years he battled against tremendous odds for his life. His love for his home and family was so great that he worked, against the advice of his physicians, to help support and comfort them. Only during the past year, which he spent in Denver, Colo., battling for life did he lay aside his work and business cares and even then his thoughts were always of home. Even though he was told by Mayo Bros., and others that his case was hopeless and incurable, he did not give up the battle when so weak that he could not hold up his head he submitted to a serious major surgical operation and suffered all of the agonies of the same and lived to come home.

ROBBED SKIDMORE BROS. STORE AT GUILFORD

Store Was Entered Through Back Door After Glass Was Broken—Thought to Be Local Talent.

The mercantile store of the Skidmore Bros., at Guilford was broken into last night and a number of articles carried away. It is thought that the job was done by local talent and that it was "pulled off" about mid-night. Fred Henderson, who runs the hotel in Guilford heard the crash of falling glass about mid-night, got up and looked about his place. He found no evidence, however, of any glass having been broken and went back to bed.

The burglars had gone to a side door at the rear of the store and smashed the glass of the door. Through this place they had entered the store and carried away three sleeved leather vests, three duck coats, three suit cases, one leather traveling bag, some ladies' underwear, overalls, Camel Cigarettes and two pairs of gloves.

Gabe Purcell, deputy sheriff of Conception Junction, was called on the case this morning and local authorities are also at work on it. It was said at Guilford this afternoon that the officers were rather non-committal on the matter. It was said this morning that there were no clews.

It is thought that the robbery was done by local talent.

EARL HOPPER, ELMO, INJURED.

Fell Yesterday From Hay Loft and Injured Back

Earl Hopper, living 3½ miles north of Elmo, sustained painful injuries yesterday shortly afternoon when he fell from the hay loft in his barn. He had started to climb down the ladder when he slipped falling across the manger below. His back was injured and he received some bruises about the head. While his injuries are exceedingly painful they are not considered critical. Mr. Hopper is a nephew of M. L. Hopper of this city.

TO HAVE MOCK WEDDING AT HARMONY CHURCH

The Harmony Church is advertising for 113 families to attend a mock wedding at the church next Friday evening. The affair will start at 8 o'clock and is to be given by the men of the church. The wedding party will include the blushing bride, the necessary bridegroom, the officiating clergyman, two flower girls, the father, who escorts and gives his daughter in marriage, and the bride's mother who weeps out of joy or sadness, which is a problem that has never been solved. The customary single ring ceremony will be used and the roles will all be taken by the men. In connection with the mock wedding a literary and musical program will be given afterwards. There will be numbers by a quartette, vocal solos, violin solos, orations and recitations. The affair will be concluded with refreshments to be served by the men. The proceeds will be used to further church work.

NODAWAY COUNTY CATTLE BRING GOOD PRICES

W. N. Wray, big live stock operator of Nodaway County, Mo., and regular patron of this market, had a consignment of cattle on sale here today that commanded exceedingly good prices, says the St. Joseph Stock Yards Journal. Included were 20 Angus steers that sold at $8; 19 Angus heifers that brought $6.70, and 31 cows and heifers that crossed the scales at $6.35. The steers shared top honors with 3 other loads, the heifers were well toward the summit for their class and the cows and heifers were above anything else offered in that line. Mr. Wray reports very little stock back, most of it having been shipped from his locality.

"A MATTER OF JUSTICE" AT PARNELL WAS A GOOD SHOW

The drama "A Matter of Justice" given at Parnell, Friday and Saturday evenings, was a success in every particular. A good audience greeted the performers Friday evening, and Saturday evening the hall was filled to its capacity. The play was strictly a home talent affair and ran from the light rollicking humor to deep pathos, and carried a lesson worth remembering. There were seven men and seven ladies in the cast. So well did each do his part that no one role was considered better or superior to another. The proceeds will be used for welfare work.

Women Elected Member of Board of Administrators

New Orleans, La., Feb. 28—For the first time in its history a woman has been elected a member of the board of administrators of Tulane university. She is Miss Florence Dymond, daughter of John Dymond Sr., 3223 St. Charles avenue, and succeeds the late Edgar H. Farrar.

Miss Dymond, a Newcomb graduate, was one of the founders of the alumnae association of that school. Two years ago she was appointed to the Tulane Alumni association advisory committee. Ever since her graduation she has been active in all Tulane-Newcomb post-graduate activities.

In June, 1920 Miss Dymond headed the women workers in the $2,500,000 endowment fund campaign.

Until the granting of women suffrage, alumnae were satisfied with the explanation of the board in refusing appointment to a woman on the ground that the university is exempt from taxation and that only voters can be members of the board. Enfranchisement of women, however, changed the situation.

COULD NOT SECURE RADIO SET IN K. C.

As an example of the scarcity, the company burned out its $110-250 watt transmitting tube on its big set—being unable to procure new ones, two 50 watt tubes borrowed from local amateurs are now being used. Of all the apparatus of a complete receiving set I was only able to get one of the five "B" batteries required and four aerial insulators. The best promise I can get on head-phones is April 1 delivery.

"I came back through the barracks at Fort Leavenworth an dmet Captain Landrum, who is in charge of the government radio school there. He was exceptionally accomodating about showing me through the station, demonstrating and explaining the different apparatus its functions and comparison with other apparatus. The apparatus in the school is continually changing. This is done so that the students may become familiar with all apparatus used by the government signal corps.

"Among the apparatus they now have at the station is a 500-cycle one-half k. w. spark transmitter; a couple of the tube phone sets, one a type B. C.—32—A. short wave tuner and the other a set of the same type for long waves; one Paragan R. A. 10, and also a few sets made by the students. Captain Landrum says the Westinghouse receiver is the sharpest tuning regenerative set made.

"Captain Landrum's duty consists partly in keeping in touch with the amateur transmitting stations by measuring their wave lengths and decrement. Any amateur found violating the radio laws will be severely dealt with.

"The shortage of radio apparatus is due to increase in the use of radio Five months ago it was estimated there were 60,000 wireless stations in the United States. At this time Secretary Hoover places the number at 600,000. Some authorities place it as high as a million. This sudden growth naturally used up all the surplus equipment."

Laws Apply to Sending.

In speaking of the laws on radio that have been talked on so much in the past few days Mr. Kessler said: "These laws apply only to transmitting apparatus as it is only the transmitting sets that cause a disturbance in radio work. A receiving set cannot in any way affect the sending of messages."

Bridal Gown of Becoming Modesty.

The personality of this royal bride is hard of description, and her marvelous brocaded wedding gown likewise. The bridal gown was one of becoming modesty, for the advanced styles of the day were disregarded and the skirts were of modest length and the sleeves were cut with a propriety long since forgotten by the average modiste of today.

No wedding gown ever shone with more beauty than that of today's bride a gown of brocaded silk, its body tone of oyster white, into which silver threads were interwoven, giving it a silvery most of gloss. Woven with deft hands into the silken texture were designs of roses, thistles, shamrocks and sprays of may, the flowers of Great Britain.

The gown was, perhaps, a bit more full in the skirt than the gown of today's fashion decree, perhaps not quite as clinging as most. Then its bodice was a court style, a bodice that fitted rather snugly and inclined to points in the back and front. The train of cloth of silver hung from the shoulders, somewhat after the fashion of a priest's hood. The whole embroidered loveliness was generously trimmed with honiton lace, and the veil of this same material was the same worn by Queen Mary and her mother, the Duchess of Teck.

Women Guests Display Loveliness.

But the beauty of the marvelously spun gown of the bride was not the only creation of glory in the dimly lighted abbey, for despite the order against court dress, with attendant jewels and the gleaming shoulders of royalty decollete, the women guests displayed their loveliness in morning gowns of rarest beauty. It was a picture of silks and laces and diaphanous materials, delicate colors and white, with elaborate and exquisite embroideries. There were velvets, satins and brocades, and some Summery gowns that reminded one of Ascot Day. Beaded work was to be seen on the gowns in the nave, the triforium and the gallery. Many of the frocks crossed the strict borders and were modeled after the fashion of dinner gowns.

It was a truly riotous scene of color, and generously prevailing were the touches of "Mary" blue. Flowers of the most brilliant hues there were in abundance and galaxies of ribbands of silk interwoven with threads of silver and gold, a decoration dear to the heart of English women. Ospreys and gay plumes were missing from the general picture, for the Queen is known to disapprove of fashions which demand those decorations.

But the women were not the sole contributors to this colorful picture The men, heaven bless them, were interesting, amusing and sometimes handsome. Uniforms and uniforms, in sombre blues, glaring scarlets, dunlike khaki and horizon blues added to the general color scheme and myriads of medals flashed the flickering candelabra.

Some are Stately and Some Funny.

But positively stately and positively funny were those who came in court dress, evening coats, silk knickerbockers, black silk stockings and buckled court shoes who wore court dress and were tall, straight and shapely were most picturesque, and those who were fat and unshapely made one smother smiles. In these days one need not blush to discuss legs, but generally it is the legs of the feminine gender that are given critical analysis, but today the women had their day and there was much said pro and con of the masculine legs of old England. At least the legs of the men of England have variety.

Wedding are always occasions of commingled solemnity and gayety. This wedding with the venerable walls of historic Westminster, a royal wedding was perhaps more solemn than most, for it was beset on all sides with tradition and ancient lore, but the predominating note was not one of solemnity, it was a note of glory, the glory of beautiful womanhood, the noble womanhood of Mary, Britain's much adored Princess, a royal bride but a glorious British woman.

FINISHED EXAMINATION OF MARYVILLE SCHOOL CHILDREN

County Health Department is Getting Ready to do Follow-up Work in The Schools of the County

Miss Margaret Scully and Miss Rae Shirley, county health nurses, finished yesterday the work of examining the children at the Jefferson school and the Garfield school in Maryville and this morning Miss Shirley was finishing up the work at the Franklin School. All the ward school children of Maryville have now been examined this year.

Miss Scully was at work at her office this morning checking over information gathered in the tests of the school children throughout the county this year, in preparation for doing follow-up work. The recommendations have been made regarding the defective children and visits now will determine what is being done with the recommendations.

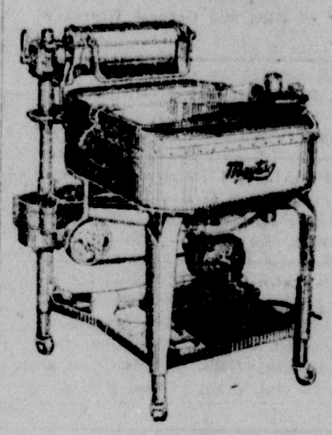
Take a look at this picture of the new MAYTAG ELECTRIC WASHER we uncrated this morning. The tub is heavy aluminum which is light in weight and rigid in construction. It will not corrode, sliver, splinter, warp, tarnish, leak, rust or dry out. It is easy to clean and is always sanitary. Space will not permit and the English language lacks the necessary word to express the completeness and perfection of this splendid home laundry. It is so different and so much in advance of any other machine you have seen that we feel sure you will want to know more about it. A telephone call will bring the particulars.



Another new arrival is a SANITARY HOVER for little chicks. It is heated by a lamp and is constructed so the odor of the lamp cannot possibly get under the hover. No chance for them to smother, sells for $13.50

Why not re-decorate some of the woodwork in the home with COL-O-VAR before the rush of spring work? A good job for "HUBBY" or the "BOYS" on a stormy day.

Another good job for spare time is to put latches on the cupboard doors, and small hinges where they are needed. Get a supply and have them ready.

BRILLIANT THRONG WATCHES WEDDING

ROYAL BRIDE'S WEDDING IN WESTMINSTER ABBEY.

TO LOVE, HONOR AND OBEY

The Bridegroom and Royal Family Rode in State From Palace to the Abbey.

London, Feb. 28—Admit pomp and ceremony of the old world royalty, Princess Mary was married to Viscount Lascelles in Westminster Abbey being the first marriage in the reigning family in twenty-nine years and a social event of almost unprecedented splendor. The marriage was at noon.

The bride groom and the royal family rode in state from Buckingham Palace to the Abbey through cheering throngs. Contrary to custom, foreign royalties were uninvited.

The Archbishop of Canterberry officiated. The bride promised to love, honor and obey. There were 2,200 guests in the Abbey. At the Abbey the royal family was met by the Dean who escorted them within the altar. The bride was escorted to the altar by her father. Lascelles and the best man awaited her there. The great organ burst into the national anthem as the ceremony closed and the Archbishop pronounced blessing.

The bridal pair laid a wreath on the cenotaps memorial of the British war dead, the bridegroom's companion in arms.

George Harvey, the American ambassador narrowly missed the ceremony. He dashed up in the nick of time as the gates were being closed. The weather was clear when the nuptial procession left the palace for the abbey. The bride was radiantly happy.

TWO SCIONS OF TUDOR KING ARE UNITED BY TODAY'S CEREMONY

London, Feb. 28. — Two scions of Henry VII., Tudor King of England, were joined in marriage today.

Princess Mary and her husband Viscount Lascelles, both trace their ancestry back to King Henry VII. The Princess Mary is fifteen generations distant from the Tudor monarch but fourteen only if her pedigree had been traced through her mother, Queen Mary instead of through her father, King George. The Queen is the great-granddaughter of George III., and the King is his great-great-grandson. Lord Lascelles is sixteenth in descent, one generation more distant, from Henry VII.

OFFICIAL DRESS WORN BY DECREE OF PALACE

London, Feb. 28.—Official dress for the wedding of Princess Mary was ordered by the Lord Chamberlain as follows:

Royal households and civil service full dress coat, with trousers. Those not in possession of full dress coat, levee dress.

Navy, Army and Air Force, full-dress uniform for officers in possession of it. Officers not in possession of full-dress uniform, service dress.

Civilians, court dress, morning gowns, for women, tailed evening coat and knee breeches for men.

By Edna Huber Church
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

London, Feb. 28.—A royal bride, a princess, but above all a picturesque example of England's stalwart womanhood—this was Mary, daughter of King George and Queen Mary, as she slowly passed through the nave to the high altar of Westminster Abbey today to take the marriage vow as wife of Henry George Charles, Viscount Lascelles.

Tall and straight, as were her Saxon forebears, fair haired, cheeks abloom with the welcome fragrance of Britain's womanhood, Princess Mary, the royal bride, appeared a stricking credit to her sex. Not because of any flower-like beauty, not because of her marvelous wedding gown of brocade, did Princess Mary seem an inspiring bride, but because of the very atmosphere of strong, courageous womanhood, that womanhood that has stood for noble strength down through the ages.

Clothing may make the man, but the finest raiment of royalty could not make Princess Mary. Her personality that personality which comes from Mary Queen of Scots, Elizabeth and Victoria, stood out above all else in the

M. H. S. BOYS AND GIRLS TO PLAY BURLINGTON JUNCTION

Teams Will Meet on the Local Court Friday Evening—May be Changes In Boys' Line-up

The boys' and girls' teams of the Maryville High School will meet the Burlington Junction High School team at the gymnasium here Friday night. The Burlington Junction boys, although they did not reach the semi finals at St. Joseph as Maryville did, play good basketball. Coach H. O. Ezell of the high school has not announced the line-up for Maryville but it is expected by the local fans that there will be several changes from the line up of last Friday.

Not much known of the girls adversary although rumors are that the Burlington Junction team will give the local girls a good game. The girls of the high school here have won all but one of their games and are considered strong contenders for the Northwest Missouri girls basketball championship. Last year the Maryville girls won every game and were awarded the championship of this district. The girls line-up will be the same as in the other games they have played.

CASES OF FLU AT PICKERING SEVERE

DR. CLAUDE P. FRYER CALLED THERE THIS MORNING

CASES MOSTLY IN TOWNS

Dr. Dean Says Cases in Maryville not Severe but Increasing—Quarantine May Become Necessary

Dr. Claude P. Fryer, county health officer was called today to Pickering by the physicians of that place on account of the influenza situation there. It is said that there is quite an epidemic of the disease in and about Pickering and that it is of a more severe type than that which is taking place in other parts of the country.

It was reported yesterday that the county health department has had reports of ninety-four cases of flu in the past week and that calls were still coming in. Most of the cases reported have been in the towns, but it is thought that there is a considerable larger number of cases throughout the country, since it is probable that many of the people on the farms have the disease but in such a light form that they do not call a physician, and consequently it is not reported to officials.

Dr. L. E. Dean, city health officer, said this morning that there were a number of cases of flu in Maryville but that none of them were very severe. Dr. Dean said he though it probable that the disease was being spread to some degree by persone affected with it staying at their work as long as they possibly can or not quitting work at all, thus exposing those about them to the disease. He said that no steps had been taken toward establishing a quarantine on account of the epidemic but that the disease is growing more prevalent and that it may become necessary to quarantine yet.

Dr. Dean said that outsido of the fact that there is flu the health of Maryville people is good. There are now only two families quarantined in town and they are both quarantined on account of scarlet fever.

Dr. Freyer makes the following statement regarding the influenza:

"Unlike many other diseases in which one attack renders immunity form subsequent ones, a first infection of "flu" germs seems to predispose the victim to later attacks of the disease and as a result of these subsequent attacks. The tendency to incipient tubercular infection is also one of the commonest after effects of influenza, and patient should, after an attack be vigilant in watching for any complication that might rise. And these include tendencies to heart trouble, pneumonia, bronchial congestions, rheumatism and quite the commonest of all, affections of the kidneys.

As to treatment, "stay in bed until the febrils or fever period has passed, use all precaution against extreme changes and exposure. Aviod meetings and public gatherings of every kind to prevent spread of the disease. The proper clothing, personal hygiene and preventative measures are the greatest factors in caring for and preventing spread of the disease."

SENIORS WON CUP AT CLEARMONT

BEAT JUNIORS BY ONE POINT IN CONTEST

GAVE A GOOD PROGRAM

Splendid Work Has Been Done This Years Along the Line of Declamation and Oratory

The finals in a declamation and oratorical contest that has been going on at the Clearmont schools for the past several months were held last night. The contests have been between the classes and the seniors won in the finals by one point over the juniors, their closest competitors.

The freshmen and sophomore classes were eliminated earlier in the season. At the beginning of the contest last night the seniors had sixty points to their credit and the juniors had fifty-five. At the end of the contest the seniors had 109 and the juniors had 108. The program was called a "Citizenship Literary Program." It was as follows:

Prelude—Orchestra.

Declamation for the juniors, "Wet Weather Talk" (Riley)—Opal Pollock.

Declamation for the seniors, "Romancin'" (Riley)—Merle Britton.

"A Fireside Fantasie" in which a medley of the following old-fashioned songs was sung: (a) "Sweet and Low," (b) "Annie Laurie," (c) "There's Music In the Air" and (d) "Scotland's Burning"—by boys and girls chorus.

Violin solo "Pretty Little Rainbow"—Bernice Beam.

Debate, "Resolved, That the Monroe Doctrine Should Be Maintained" Affirmative—Dola Holmes, Eliot Lister and Day Baker, all members of the senior class; Negative—Joe Linebaugh, Allie May Johnson and Floyd Billingsley, all members of the junior class.

Selection—Orchestra.

"One of Those Awful Children"—Ethmer Jenkins.

Composition for the juniors, "Patriotism"—Mary Smith.

Composition for the juniors, "Americanism"—Clara Snyder.

Selection—The Orchestra

Pianologue, "L' Envoi" (Kipling) and "Narcissus" (Nevin)—Gladys Jenkins, accompanied by Miss Thelma Beam.

Presentation of the loving cup by Leslie G. Somerville, county superintendent of schools.

Miss Opal Pollock, a junior won from Merle Britton, a senior, in the declamation contest; the seniors won from the juniors in the debate and Mary Smith, a junior, won from Clara Snyder, a senior, in the composition contest.

It is said that some remarkable work has been done in the Clearmont schools in the past year along the lines of oratory and declamation. Leslie G. Somerville says that the talks delivered last night were especially good.

Hubert Garrett is superintendent of the Clearmont schools and it has been largely due to him that the contests have been carried on. The loving cup given to the winning class last night was furnished by Mr. Garrett. Mr. Garrett has been assisted in the work by Mrs. Neva Rhodes, principal and B. D. Murray.

One of the special features of the program was the playing of the high school orchestra. This orchestra is composed of four pieces and each of them are played by members of one family. The members of the orchestra are the two sons and two daughters of J. E. Beam. They play the piano, violin, cornet and base horn.

MINERS STRIKE UP TO HARDING PEACE PARLEY

PRESENTED RUMPLESTILSKIN WELL AT THE HIGH SCHOOL

Pupils Under Mrs. Caroline Leet Played Story of Queen Who Spun Strand Into Gold

At the assembly presented this afternoon at the high school by section B of the fourth grade as one of the regular assemblies presented once a month, the dramatization of Rumplestilkin, one of the Grimm's fairy tales, the pupils did exceptionally well. The entire cast acted well and was a credit to the teacher, Mrs. Caroline Leet.

The story is about a millers daughter who is required by the queen to spin straw into gold. This she does by the aid of a dwarf which she pays with her jewelry. Again she is required to spin a much larger pile of straw and if she succeeds in doing this she is to marry the king. This time the dwarf is to have her first born baby. The millers daughter shows the king the straw and is married to him. About a year later a child comes to the king and queen and the dwarf calls for his pay but finally agrees to call the bargain off if the queen can guess his name. Some messengers of the queen report that they heard a queer dwarf dancing around and saying that a queens child will soon be his because the queen cannot guess his name which is Rumplestilskin. The queen tells him that that is his name and the dwarf leaves in anger.

TWO NODAWAY COUNTY MEN ENTITLED TO S. DAK. BONUS

John L. Vanhoutan of Parnell and Obed B. Oglesby of Ravenwood Enlisted From Other State.

Applications were made through the local Red Cross chapter yesterday by two Nodaway County men for the state soldier's bonus of South Dakota, according to Miss Betty Turner, Red Cross executive. The two men are John L. Vanhoutan of Parnell and Obed B. Oglesby of Ravenwood.

The two men were working at Ipwhich, S. Dakota, shortly before the United States entered the war. Oglesby volunteered for service on April 1, just before war was declared and Vanhoustan volunteered six days later. Oglesby served until September 4, 1919, and Vanhoutan served until April 29, 1919.

The men enlisted from the state of South Dakota and for that reason will be entitled to the bonus of that state.

The men are better off financially now by having enlisted from South Dakota in place of from Missouri. South Dakota is paying her former soldiers $15 a month with a maximum amount of $400. Oglesby will receive the full $400 and Vanhouton will receive about $375, Miss Turner says, if the applications go through all right

Miss Turner says that she has information regarding the state bonus in most of the states in the Union. She says that she has received a number of requests for information regarding the Iowa state bonus but that none exists as yet, although there is a movement in Iowa to vote on a bonus proposition during the year of 1922. This proposition proposes to pay the men 75 cents a day for the time they served.

NATION WIDE IDENTIFICATION BUREAU IS NOW AVAILABLE

Many people are, no doubt, aware that a large number of men and women "mysterously disappear" but few realize that the number of such "missing" totals many thousands each year, and that the number for the past few years is far greater than those unacquainted with the facts would think possible.

Some are unwilling to make their identity known, some merely neglect to do so, but many are entirely unable to do so. They are frequently inmates of asylums, infirmaries and other detention institutions. Death, also claims upward of seventy-five thousand of these "missing persons every year in the United States alone.

Fleeman's national identification bureau is an organization whose business is to locate and identify the "missing" and those in need of identification. To locate and communicate with relatives and friends of those identified.

The local member of the bureau is the Price Furniture Co., of this city.

PIERCING WIND THIS MORNING SOMEWHAT OF A SURPRISE

BLIZZARD IN SOUTHWEST

Texas, Oklahoma and Southern Kansas in Clutches of Worst Storm Of Year

Bur-r-r-r! how that north wind cut this morning. We strolled forth from our homes not realizing how piercing the air had become, but we soon found out. One Maryville man walked up town, a distance of seven blocks, and said that he got colder than he had been at any time this winter.

Motor cars on the streets today are steaming because of frozen radiators. A few reports of frozen water pipes have been made and it is likely that there will be others.

J. R. Brink, local weather observer, says that the thermometer read 3 above the zero mark this morning, but it seemed much colder. Mr. Brink said that as far as he could tell from reading local conditions is would possibly grow colder.

Severe weather conditions are reported from all sections of the country. At places in Montana the temperature is reported as being as low as 32 degrees below zero and some of the southwestern states are reported to be in the clutches of a terrible storm.

Kansas City, Feb. 28—The worst blizzard of the winter howling through Oklahoma into Texas today swept Kansas and the Missouri valley last night. The temperatures were near zero. Train service was widely impeded by the heavy sleet falling in the Panhandle. Severe cattle losses are reported in Texas.

Sedalia, Mo., Feb. 28—Four inches of snow fell here last night. The thermometer was six above zero.

EARL BARMANN URGES BACHELORS TO MARRY

Was Called on at C. of C. Dinner Last Night to Speak on Subject He "Has Had Much On Mind"

R. P. Hosmer, president of the Maryville Chamber of Commerce, explained at the Chamber's dinner last night at the Balnum Hotel that the entertainment committee always made an effort to get a man on the program who had given a great deal of thought to "the subject" on which he was to speak. Then he explained that one of the members of the Chamber present had had a certain subject much on his mind of late and that he would call on this member for a talk. He then announced that Earl Barmann, who recently returned from his honeymoon would speak.

Mr. Barmann arose to the occasion and urged that the bachelors in town take the same step that he had taken, saying that he had often been urged by his married friends to marry and he now feels that they had the right idea in urging him to do so.

CRANDELL ARRESTED ON A LIQUOR CHARGE

Will Appear Before Judge Dawson in Circuit Court Tomorrow—Sold Liquor to Orus Thompson.

Charles Crandell, ten miles southwest of Maryville, was arrested this morning by Sheriff Roach and Deputy Sheriff Atherton on a charge of selling and possessing intoxicating liquor. Crandell will appear in circuit court before Judge Dawson tomorrow, and it was understood today he would enter a plea of guilty.

Crandell is charged with sellin some liquor to Orus Thompson of Conception Junction who was injured in auto collision when his car and a car driven by Kenneth Fordyce of Maryville ran together about eight miles south of Maryville a week ago last Sunday. It was said that the liquor was found in Thompson's car after the accident that day and when questioned by the authorities Thompson is alleged to have said Crandell sold it to him.

A short session of circuit court is to be held tomorrow. A few minor matters are to be disposed. Judge Dawson expects to leave sometime during the day for Grant City where he will hold court on Thursday.

COULD NOT SECURE RADIO SET IN K. C.

HIGH SCHOOL TO GET KESSLER'S SET

A RADIO CLUB FORMED

Use of Apparatus in Country Has Increased from 60,000 to 600,000 In Past Five Months

Ernest Kessler of the Kessler Laboratories was unable to purchase the Westinghouse radio set desired for the high school Saturday when he went to Kansas City for that purpose. This was because all the radio houses in Kansas City are sold out of equipment and owing to the fact that all the manufacturers in the country are behind with their orders so that stocks of equipment cannot be sent out.

Mr. Kessler will turn his set at his laboratories over to the school so that the classes there may go on with the work and he expects to be able to get the new set in by about April 1.

Since it has been assured that the High school will have a wireless telephone outfit several of the students have enrolled in a radio club. The purpose of this club is to promote the interest in radio and also to help to educate the students along that line. Among the first requirements to be a member of the club is to learn the continental code so that one will be able to send and receive at least eight words a minute.

Forrest Martin has offered his services in helping to instruct the club members along the lines of wireless and radio. Forrest has been interested in wireless for a long time and understands it well.

Club to Meet Twice a Week

The club will meet for study probably twice a week and they will first take up the learning of the code and also the working of the radio phone that the high school has bought for the science department. On other nights they will meet to hear the broadcasted concerts given out by the larger stations such as Pittsburg and Chicago.

The club plans after a week or two of lessons on the working of the machine to be able to give concerts to the students of the high school and also to outside people who wish to hear.

The radio club will have a charter membership of twenty-five members and if it is found more can be accomodated the club may be opened to outside enthusiasts. Mrs. Verne Manley science teacher of the high school, will be in charge of the club.

Told of Apparatus Shortage.

Mr. Kessler in an interview this morning told the following regarding his trip to Kansas City and the radio supply situation throughout the country:

"The shortage of radio apparatus and material is worse than I realized. The Western Radio Co., Westinghouse distributers, for eleven states, have practically nothing in the radio line for sale. It has not had a receiving set in the house for two weeks. Tubes are just as scarce. The company has not had one in stock for some time.

PRESIDENT WANTS 'EXPERIMENT' ENDED

SAYS SHIPPING SYSTEM IS TOO COSTLY

MADE RECOMMENDATIONS

Would Establish 125 Million Dollar Shipbuilders' Fund and Place Interest Rate at 2 Per Cent

Washington, Feb. 28—President Harding before a joint session of congress recommended that the government end its "costly experiment" in the shipping business to subsidize American shipping, paving the way of rebuilding the merchant marine.

The Recommendations included liberalizing restrictive laws; the sale of the remaining government ships at prices fixed by the government; establishment of a 125 million dollar loan fund for shipbuilders, borrowing at two per cent; reduction of taxes on shipping corporations equal to five percent of the value of goods shipped under the American flag and waiving such taxes where applied to the half-cost of the new ship construction; fifty per cent of the immigrants required to travel in American vessels; expectation of coast wise laws to include Philippines; ten per cent customs duty, about thirty millions annually, wil be devoted to the revolving fund to provide means for extending aid; tonnage taxes of about two millions annually to be devoted to the same fund.

BODIES OF L. A. DOVE AND 3 CHILDREN BURIED SUNDAY

Funeral Services Were Conducted at Burlington Junction by the Rev. F. E. Edwards

The bodies of L. A. Dove and his three children, Orval, Mabel and Cleo, who were burned to death Friday night, February 17, when their home near Hartville Junction, Wyo., was destroyed by fire, arrived in Burlington Junction Saturday night. They were accompanied by an older daughter and her husband, and Mrs. Dove's brother, Aaron Reynolds of this city, who went to Wyoming a week ago today.

Short funeral services were held at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the Workman Chapel, conducted by the Rev. F. E. Edwards, pastor of the Methodist Church in Burlington Junction. Burial was in the Workman Chapel cemetery, the four bodies being interred in one coffin.

Mrs. Dove was unable to come for the funeral because of being ill in a hospital, suffering from exposure as a result of the fire. Mrs. Dove was the only member of the family to escape walking half a mile barefooted and in her night clothes to the home of neighbors.

Brings Suit for Divorce

A suit for a divorce was filed today by Ruth Roberts against Bryan C. Roberts. Abandonment was given as the grounds for the divorce. The petition states they were married April 3, 1920 and lived together until December 6, 1920. Care and custody of a minor child is asked for.

Mrs. Reynolds to Visit Here

Mrs. Gilbert D. Reynolds of Chicago, who is visiting Miss Katherine Schenck at the Broadlands Hotel in Kansas City, is expected to arrive in Maryville, her former home, the latter part of the week for a visit with relatives. She will also visit relatives in St. Joseph and her brother, Charles Ford in Holton, Kan., before returning home. Mrs. Reynolds was Miss Babe Ford until her marriage last July.

Lockwood Succeeds Miller.

Washington, Feb. 28—George B. Lockwood, publisher of the National Republican, was appointed acting of the Republican National committee, succeeding the late Clarence B. Miller.

To Conduct Funeral in Fairfax

The Rev. T. J. Puckett of Maryville will go to Fairfax tomorrow morning where he will conduct funeral services for Mrs. McNulty at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

THE WEATHER

Mostly cloudy to-night and Wednesday, probably snow in the south portion; continued cold.

LARGEST CIRCULATION IN NODAWAY COUNTY

LAWYERS OR LAW?

It is significant of deplorable conditions that hardly a meeting of the bar association has been held in the past few years at which some noted jurist has not risen to denounce in the most outspoken language the present methods of law administration in this country, methods that come little short of making a hideous mockery of justice. It is encouraging to find the criticism coming from the legal profession itself and from the bench, not only because they are familiar with the conditions which they decry but because the statute-making powers of this country rest largely in the hands of lawyers, especially statutes dealing with court procedure.

Judge Clarence N. Goodwin, for years on the Illinois Appellate Bench, is one of the most recent critics of the present system.

Equality before the law is impossible as long as the rich and powerful are represented in court by highly educated lawyers while the poor and ignorant are represented by untrained and ignorant counsel. Until such a condition is corrected there will be little justice in the courts.

During my years as a trial judge I was frequently distressed by the fact that one side or the other in the case before me was so incompetently represented by the counsel, or represented by such ignorant counsel that, owing to the learning and skill of the attorneys, on the other side, it seemed impossible to get the case properly before the court, or keep error out of the record.

There is no question but there are scores of men at Jefferson City today who would be at liberty had they been in a position to hire the best legal talent available and sufficiently equipped with funds to take advantage of all the means of appeal and procrastination open to the wealthy. There are men in the penitentiary who would undoubtedly, have been acquitted on appeal had they had the funds necessary to carry the cases to the higher courts. There are others who would perhaps have escaped had they been able to provide money to bring back witnesses from a distant points, pay for the taking of disposition in other cities and foot the bill for other legal tergiversations.

On the other hand, there are hundreds of others at large who would be in prison, but for the fact that they were able to hire the best legal talent in the community, men who were able through sheer eloquence to drive the word "acquittal" into the minds of juries, men whose wits were so sharpened as to render the most honest and sincere witness incoherent and contradictory, men whose apparent knowledge of the law was so profound as to overwhelm even the judge on the bench.

Are the liberty and property of the citizens of America to be prizes in contests of oratory and wit? Is the equity of a cause to be determined by the judgment of the parties at interest in hiring the best qualified attorneys? Is one man to go to jail because he has hired a cheap and stupid attorney and another no less guilty to go free because he was forunate enough to get brilliant and eloquence counsel?

According to police figures 90 per cent of the crimes in St. Louis are committed by white persons, yet 35 per cent of the St. Louis convicts at Jefferson City are negroes. What do these figures signify? Merely that the negro, as a rule either defended by lackadaisical counsel appointed by courts, or by police station shysters. His case is rarely appealed; most often he doesn't even understand the purport of the questions hurled at him by the prosecutor. The negro is not the victim of race prejudice; he is the victim of our system of administering justice.

There must be reform—radical reform—if the American people are to lose faith in their courts of justice. This question of law administration is by far the most important that will come before the Missouri Constitutional Convention this year and the state can blaze the way to better things by rearing code under which the poorest man in the commonwealth will have just exactly as many opportunities to retain his liberty or property as the wealthiest citizen, and in no instance shall lack of funds be a bar to a defendant pursuing every available step in his interest or obtaining competent counsel.—St. Louis Star.

Forumettes

If all of us were so willing
To share our joys as we are
To share our sorrows this
World would be a lot happier.

Some people get down to "Brass tacks" but some girls get down to "Bare facts."

The most impolite people in Maryville are the bill collectors. They usually call again whether or not they are asked.

"Thinking for the average individual is a laborious operation" we read in a scientific newspaper article a few days ago. Perhaps that is the reason so few people are thoughtful of others.

Uncle Abner says you always help yourself ten fold by being helpful to others.

The nerviest act in history is reported right here in Maryville. The other day a woman walked into a drug store, picked up a brush from a display tray, brushed her little girl's hair and walked out. On top of that she never said "Thank you."

If jazz is really dying, we bet we can tell where it will go without any help from the reformers.

A lot of people have solved the problem of cutting down the cost of living. They have the goods charged and then forget all about the bill.

The court house cynic, remarked the other day that you can hardly say that the man who puts his property in his wife's name is holding his own.

The quarrelling boisterous sparrows are getting loving in the eaves of Maryville homes. They are now more willing to share the good morsels the housewife throws out with a lady friend, looking forward, no doubt, to the love nest in May's lilac-scented bower.

How many times in writing a long delayed letter have you started out by saying "Just finding time to answer your letter" or some other fib? Why don't you admit you are mentally indolent and be honest about it.

It is just possible that the other fellow, who can't see things just as you do, may have better eyesight than you.

Our bachelor friend says he has noticed that the more patience the average woman has with her children the less she has with her poor husband.

Something to worry about—What are you to do when a girl faints as the first aid manual says to loosen the clothing at the throat.

Louise the stenographer, says she never had any desire to get into the movies other than to have the price to pay at the door when her favorite hero was to appear on the screen.

Did you ever notice how the average woman will smile when a rival is praised?

A marriage license was issued to Harry W. Siler of Maryville and Goldie Saddoris of Ft. Byron, Ill.

Obituary

Thomas Marion, son of B. W. and Mary A. Trullinger, was born in Hamburg, Iowa, February 28, 1862, departed this life February 23, 1922. When 13 years of age he went to Illinois and made his home with a sister for a while, coming to Missouri in 1877, which has since been his home. On January 10, 1883, he was united in marriage with Ella Bentley. Two children blessed this union. The oldest son, Fred B. died in 1901. His wife and one son, Earl B., survive. He also has 7 brothers and 1 sister In 1917, he united with the church. He has always been a true loving husband and father and kind neighbor.

He did not have an enemy in the world as far as he knew and was a friend to everybody. Through all of his months of sickness, at times suffering intense agony, he was never heard to utter a word of complaint against his God or speak in a rebellious manner against his fate. He was hopeful and cheerful until the very last and in the midst of his sufferings he would speak words of comfort to his wife and son bidding them to be of good cheer and assuring them that everything would be alright.

For two years he battled against tremendous odds for his life. His love for his home and family was so great that he worked, against the advice of his physicians, to help support and comfort them. Only during the past year, which he spent in Denver, Colo., battling for life did he lay aside his work and business cares and even then his thoughts were always of home. Even though he was told by Mayo Bros., and others that his case was hopeless and incurable, he did not give up the battle when so weak that he could not hold up his head he submitted to a serious major surgical operation and suffered all of the agonies of the same and lived to come home.

ROBBED SKIDMORE BROS. STORE AT GUILFORD

Store Was Entered Through Back Door After Glass Was Broken—Thought to Be Local Talent.

The mercantile store of the Skidmore Bros., at Guilford was broken into last night and a number of articles carried away. It is thought that the job was done by local talent and that it was "pulled off" about mid-night. Fred Henderson, who runs the hotel in Guilford heard the crash of falling glass about mid-night, got up and looked about his place. He found no evidence, however, of any glass having been broken and went back to bed.

The burglars had gone to a side door at the rear of the store and smashed the glass of the door. Through this place they had entered the store and carried away three sleeved leather vests, three duck coats, three suit cases, one leather traveling bag, some ladies' underwear, overalls, Camel Cigarettes and two pairs of gloves.

Gabe Purcell, deputy sheriff of Conception Junction, was called on the case this morning and local authorities are also at work on it. It was said at Guilford this afternoon that the officers were rather non-committal on the matter. It was said this morning that there were no clews.

It is thought that the robbery was done by local talent.

EARL HOPPER, ELMO, INJURED.

Fell Yesterday From Hay Loft and Injured Back

Earl Hopper, living 3½ miles north of Elmo, sustained painful injuries yesterday shortly afternoon when he fell from the hay loft in his barn. He had started to climb down the ladder when he slipped falling across the manger below. His back was injured and he received some bruises about the head. While his injuries are exceedingly painful they are not considered critical. Mr. Hopper is a nephew of M. L. Hopper of this city.

TO HAVE MOCK WEDDING AT HARMONY CHURCH

The Harmony Church is advertising for 113 families to attend a mock wedding at the church next Friday evening. The affair will start at 8 o'clock and is to be given by the men of the church. The wedding party will include the blushing bride, the necessary bridegroom, the officiating clergyman, two flower girls, the father, who escorts and gives his daughter in marriage, and the bride's mother who weeps out of joy or sadness, which is a problem that has never been solved. The customary single ring ceremony will be used and the roles will all be taken by the men. In connection with the mock wedding a literary and musical program will be given afterwards. There will be numbers by a quartette, vocal solos, violin solos, orations and recitations. The affair will be concluded with refreshments to be served by the men. The proceeds will be used to further church work.

NODAWAY COUNTY CATTLE BRING GOOD PRICES

W. N. Wray, big live stock operator of Nodaway County, Mo., and regular patron of this market, had a consignment of cattle on sale here today that commanded exceedingly good prices, says the St. Joseph Stock Yards Journal. Included were 20 Angus steers that sold at $8; 19 Angus heifers that brought $6.70, and 31 cows and heifers that crossed the scales at $6.35. The steers shared top honors with 3 other loads, the heifers were well toward the summit for their class and the cows and heifers were above anything else offered in that line. Mr. Wray reports very little stock back, most of it having been shipped from his locality.

"A MATTER OF JUSTICE" AT PARNELL WAS A GOOD SHOW

The drama "A Matter of Justice" given at Parnell, Friday and Saturday evenings, was a success in every particular. A good audience greeted the performers Friday evening, and Saturday evening the hall was filled to its capacity. The play was strictly a home talent affair and ran from the light rollicking humor to deep pathos, and carried a lesson worth remembering. There were seven men and seven ladies in the cast. So well did each do his part that no one role was considered better or superior to the other. The proceeds will be used for welfare work.

Women Elected Member of Board of Administrators

New Orleans, La., Feb. 28—For the first time in its history a woman has been elected a member of the board of administrators of Tulane university. She is Miss Florence Dymond, daughter of John Dymond Sr., 3223 St. Charles avenue, and succeeds the late Edgar H. Farrar.

Miss Dymond, a Newcomb graduate, was one of the founders of the alumnae association of that school. Two years ago she was appointed to the Tulane Alumni association advisory committee. Ever since her graduation she has been active in all Tulane-Newcomb post-graduate activities.

In June, 1920 Miss Dymond headed the women workers in the $2,500,000 endowment fund campaign.

Until the granting of women suffrage, alumnae were satisfied with the explanation of the board in refusing appointment to a woman on the ground that the university is exempt from taxation and that only voters can be members of the board. Enfranchisement of women, however, changed the situation.

COULD NOT SECURE RADIO SET IN K. C.

As an example of the scarcity, the company burned out its $110-250 watt transmitting tube on its big set—being unable to procure new ones, two 50 watt tubes borrowed from local amateurs are now being used. Of all the apparatus of a complete receiving set I was only able to get one of the five "B" batteries required and four aerial insulators. The best promise I can get on head-phones is April 1 delivery.

"I came back through the barracks at Fort Leavenworth an dmet Captain Landrum, who is in charge of the government radio school there. He was exceptionally accomodating about showing me through the station, demonstrating and explaining the different apparatus its functions and comparison with other apparatus. The apparatus in the school is continually changing. This is done so that the students may become familiar with all apparatus used by the government signal corps.

"Among the apparatus they now have at the station is a 500-cycle one-half k. w. spark transmitter; a couple of the tube phone sets, one a type B. C.—32—A. short wave tuner and the other a set of the same type for long waves; one Paragan R. A. 10, and also a few sets made by the students. Captain Landrum says the Westinghouse receiver is the sharpest tuning regenerative set made.

"Captain Landrum's duty consists partly in keeping in touch with the amateur transmitting stations by mensuring their wave lengths and decrement. Any amateur found violating the radio laws will be severely dealt with.

"The shortage of radio apparatus is due to increase in the use of radio Five months ago it was estimated there were 60,000 wireless stations in the United States. At this time Secretary Hoover places the number at 600,000. Some authorities place it as high as a million. This sudden growth naturally used up all the surplus equipment."

Laws Apply to Sending.

In speaking of the laws on radio that have been talked on so much in the past few days Mr. Kessler said: "These laws apply only to transmitting apparatus as it is only the transmitting sets that cause a disturbance in radio work. A receiving set cannot in any way affect the sending of messages."

BRILLIANT THRONG WATCHES WEDDING

great grey abbey, swarming with those of royal blood.

Bridal Gown of Becoming Modesty.

The personality of this royal bride is hard of description, and her marvelous brocaded wedding gown likewise. The bridal gown was one of becoming modesty, for the advanced styles of the day were disregarded and the skirts were of modest length and the sleeves were cut with a propriety long since forgotten by the average modiste of today.

No wedding gown ever shone with more beauty than that of today's bride a gown of brocaded silk, its body tone of oyster white, into which silver threads were interwoven, giving it a silvery most of gloss. Woven with deft hands into the silken texture were designs of roses, thistles, shamrocks and sprays of may, the flowers of Great Britain.

The gown was, perhaps, a bit more full in the skirt than the gown of today's fashion decree, perhaps not quite as clinging as most. Then its bodice was a court style, a bodice that fitted rather snugly and inclined to points in the back and front. The train of cloth of silver hung from the shoulders, somewhat after the fashion of a priest's hood. The whole embroidered loveliness was generously trimmed with honiton lace, and the veil of this same material was the same worn by Queen Mary and her mother, the Duchess of Teck.

Women Guests Display Loveliness.

But the beauty of the marvelously spun gown of the bride was not the only creation of glory in the dimly lighted abbey, for despite the order against court dress, with attendant jewels and the gleaming shoulders of royalty decollete, the women guests displayed their loveliness in morning gowns of rarest beauty. It was a picture of silks and laces and diaphanous materials, delicate colors and white, with elaborate and exquisite embroideries. There were velvets, satins and brocades, and some Summery gowns that reminded one of Ascot Day. Beaded work was to be seen on the gowns in the nave, the triferium and the gallery. Mary of the frocks crossed the strict borders and were modeled after the fashion of dinner gowns.

It was a truly riotous scene of color, and generously prevailing were the touches of "Mary" blue. Flowers of the most brilliant hues there were in abundance and galaxies of ribbands of silk interwoven with threads of silver and gold, a decoration dear to the heart of English women. Ospreys and gay plumes were missing from the general picture, for the Queen is known to disapprove of fashions which demand those decorations.

But the women were not the sole contributors to this colorful picture The men, heaven bless them, were interesting, amusing and sometimes handsome. Uniforms and uniforms, in sombre blues, glaring scarlets, dunlike khaki and horizon blues added to the general color scheme and myriads of medals flashed the flickering candelabra.

Some are Stately and Some Funny.

But positively stately and positively funny were those who came in court dress, evening coats, silk knickerbockers, black silk stockings and buckled court shoes who wore court dress and were tall, straight and shapely were most picturesque, and those who were fat and unshapely made one smother smiles. In these days one need not blush to discuss legs, but generally it is the legs of the feminine gender that are given critical analysis, but today the women had their day and there was much said pro and con of the masculine legs of old England. At least the legs of the men of England have variety.

Wedding are always occasions of commingled solemnity and gayety. This wedding with the venerable walls of historic Westminster, a royal wedding was perhaps more solemn than most, for it was beset on all sides with tradition and ancient lore, but the predominating note was not one of solemnity, it was a note of glory, the glory of beautiful womanhood, the noble womanhood of Mary, Britain's much adored Princess, a royal bride but a glorious British woman.

FINISHED EXAMINATION OF MARYVILLE SCHOOL CHILDREN

County Health Department is Getting Ready to do Follow-up Work in The Schools of the County

Miss Margaret Scully and Miss Rae Shirley, county health nurses, finished yesterday the work of examining the children at the Jefferson school and the Garfield school in Maryville and this morning Miss Shirley was finishing up the work at the Franklin School. All the ward school children of Maryville have now been examined this year.

Miss Scully was at work at her office this morning checking over information gathered in the tests of the school children throughout the county this year, in preparation for doing follow-up work. The recommendations have been made regarding the defective children and visits now will determine what is being done with the recommendations.

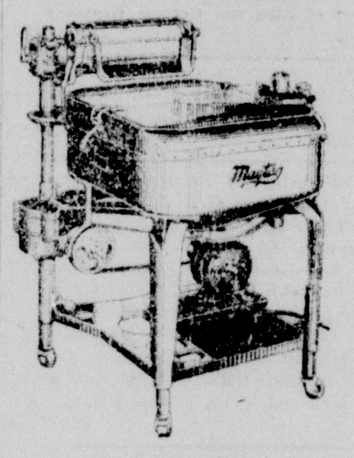
Lowry's Letter

Take a look at this picture of the new MAYTAG ELECTRIC WASHER we uncrated this morning. The tub is heavy aluminum which is light in weight and rigid in construction. It will not corrode, sliver, splinter, warp, tarnish, leak, rust or dry out. It is easy to clean and is always sanitary. Space will not permit and the English language lacks the necessary word to express the completeness and perfection of this splendid home laundry. It is so different and so much in advance of any other machine you have seen that we feel sure you will want to know more about it. A telephone call will bring the particulars.



Another new arrival is a SANITARY HOVER for little chicks. It is heated by a lamp and is constructed so the odor of the lamp cannot possibly get under the hover. No chance for them to smother, sells for $13.50

Why not re-decorate some of the woodwork in the home with COL-O-VAR before the rush of spring work? A good job for "HUBBY" or the "BOYS" on a stormy day.

Another good job for spare time is to put latches on the cupboard doors, and small hinges where they are needed. Get a supply and have them ready.
